- A. What is interaction?
 B. Is there anything like the perfect interaction?
 C. Who to interact with?
 D. Is interaction really important?

How to interact with other people - that is the question. We ask ourselves about it all the time. How to do it? What should we do to succeed in human interaction? What is interaction? Is there anything like the perfect interaction? We will try to answer these questions in this article.

2.1. _____A_____

When we think about the word 'interaction' itself, we will probably come to the conclusion that interaction means talking to people. And this is partly true. Interaction is talking to other people, but not only talking. This talking is to achieve a certain goal, for example to make someone interested in our point of view.

2.2. _____B_____

No, there is no such thing. We are all imperfect and far from ideal. But there is definitely something we could call a good interaction. What is it? Basically, it is one that achieves its aim, for instance it successfully convinces someone that what we are saying is right and what they are saying is wrong.

2.3. ___C___

Obviously, there are no guidelines about which people you can freely talk to, and which you should avoid. After all, can you ignore someone just because you don't like the person? There might come a day when you could need something from this someone, and what would you do then? It's best to interact with most people, though there are ones with whom you will never interact, for various reasons.

To conclude, we cannot survive without interaction and we have to admit it. If we do not talk to people, if we don't communicate, how is the society supposed to function?
